

Press release MPDV

MPDV presents a preview of the Hannover Messe

New model for the Smart Factory

Mosbach, 07.02.2019 – Manufacturing companies need innovative applications and IT tools on their way to the Smart Factory. At the Hannover Messe 2019, MPDV will showcase a wide portfolio of opportunities.

With a model for innovative production IT, MPDV is presenting a new approach to the requirements of a Smart Factory at the Hannover Messe that can be met with a modern Manufacturing Execution System (MES). In addition, the focus is on new functions and expansion of the market-proven MES HYDRA. Another highlight is the innovative Manufacturing Integration Platform (MIP), which is the basis for a manufacturing IT ecosystem.

MPDV experts will be talking directly to manufacturing companies from all sectors at the Hannover Messe (booth A12, hall 7) to find out which methods and products are the right ones for their own way to the Smart Factory.

Integrated Industry – Artificial Intelligence

The Hannover Messe 2019 (01.-05.04.2019) with its leading subject "Integrated Industry - Industrial Intelligence" is also dedicated to artificial intelligence - MPDV will be showing specific applications for this area. All trade fair highlights and the possibility of making an appointment
